There may have been some tentative whispers that the UK is seeing a few 'green shoots' of recovery from the current recession, but national curtain and furnishing specialist Paul Simon is not relying on hearsay. In fact, from this weekend, they're bursting with their own 'BLUE shoots' in the form of bonus savings which will ensure that every shopper has the chance to be a lot better off.

Even in the face of difficult trading conditions, such as those of current times, retailers that thrive and survive are those that continue to offer great choice, high quality and exceptional value for money. And Paul Simon have always had this criteria at the top of their trading agenda.

Paul Simon's Managing Director, Paul Ludwin explains: 'The focus of this year's summer sale has been to encourage customers to think about making some changes to their homes. It doesn't always require a massive investment, but positive change in our everyday life is a healthy distraction from some of the doom and gloom that we've all been hearing about for months on end.'

Says Paul: "Our 'Bringing Change Home' campaign is supported by fantastic sale prices across the store which have made dozens of our best selling ranges really affordable and even more attractive. But now, on top of these savings, we're turning up the heat for the final days of our sale by giving an extra 20% off sale prices on a host of top ranges. This weekend marks the start of our big Blue Cross bonus event across the store, which rounds off the end of our summer sale with a real shout and excitement!"

With nearly 50 stores nationwide, Paul Simon is one of the only curtain specialists in the UK. Their impressive expansion programme over the last 18 months has seen the company introduce bed and furniture departments in selected stores across the Group, and these are expanding to many more Paul Simon outlets over the coming months. Clearly this is a retailer who puts its money where its mouth is, and returns part of its success to its loyal, local customers as a sign of appreciation. And while they continue to deliver the promise of unbeatable value, with a Price Promise to support their claim, Paul Simon could well be the 'green shoots' that we're now hearing about and should be encouraged by.

If you want to bring change to your home, and enjoy a little more change in your pocket, don't miss out on an extra 20% off sale prices in the Blue X event at Paul Simon from this weekend.

SECOND BLOW TO NEW TOWN MASTERPLAN

BLUEPRINTS for the multi-million pound regeneration of Harlow town centre have been dealt another potentially devastating blow after a second company which owns a key part of the site said it had no intention of selling to developers.

Geminex Hotel & Leisure Management, which bought the former Xtreme Motorsports site in Crown Gate less than five months ago, said it was shocked to learn the land had been earmarked as the location for a new bus interchange in the recently-unveiled plans for the Town Centre North redevelopment project.

The company intends to build a 122-bed-room Holiday Inn hotel on the site, permission for which was granted to previous owners J Martorana Properties by Harlow Council back in May 2007.

Geminex managing director Jas Dhooper told the Star: "We bought this land earlier this year with the express intention of constructing a new hotel. We have no desire to sell up to anyone and plan to start work early next year.

"We have not had any contact from the council or its development team with regards to any other proposals for the site. Quite frankly I'm shocked and disappointed that these plans have already gone on public display."

The proposed new bus interchange, which would replace the current facility in Terminus Street, had been due to form part of the first phase of the redevelopment project with a provisional completion date of 2013 put forward by developers Stockland.

Hawk's owner still confident she can keep club going despite cash crisis

THE new owner of Harlow Town FC this week continued to insist she can save the club from financial meltdown.

Carol Bothwell was speaking after meeting Harlow MP Bill Rammell, Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson and council chief executive Malcolm Morley on Friday to discuss the club's financial situation.

The meeting was called by Mr Rammell following revelations by former chairman Simon Morgan that the club could be as much as £280,000 in debt.

Both Mr Rammell and the council were seeking assurances the club will continue to operate.

Mrs Bothwell, who is now the sole shareholder of the club following the resignation of the entire HTFC board last week, set out her plans to keep it afloat and will meet with the group again next week to reaffirm her ideas.

"I am still confident we can keep the club going," she told the Star. "We have a new manager, we have a team and we have been contacted by possible financial backers."

She said functions would continue to be held at the Barrows Farm Stadium and that all the necessary licences were in place.

The club was last week granted 63 days to come up with money to pay a £42,000 tax debt. It is understood the business is also in payment arrears to a number of other organisations and has unpaid gas, electricity and water bills.

Mrs Bothwell is looking to sell shares, increase lorry parking, hold car boot sales and sell breakfast at the ground in order to raise much-needed cash.

After the meeting Mr Rammell said: "A town like Harlow needs a thriving football club. These are difficult and challenging times for the club and at the meeting I made clear my determination to do whatever I can to help the club survive."

Mr Johnson added: "Clearly there are some significant issues to be addressed and the council wants to ensure that they are fully understood and can be resolved."

"We want Harlow to have a thriving football club and will continue to work to see what it can do to help to achieve this."

Football star's fury at wrongful arrest

By CHRIS MOSS
moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ENGLAND footballer Jermain Defoe could sue Essex Police for wrongful arrest after he was locked in a cell at Harlow Police Station for five hours on Monday morning.

The Tottenham Hotspur striker was stopped by officers in Loughton at 2.30am and arrested on suspicion of driving while disqualified.

But Mr Defoe (26), who earlier this month was banned from driving for six months after being found guilty of speeding, was not breaking the law as the disqualification had been suspended pending the outcome of an appeal.

Despite protesting his innocence the footballer was taken to Harlow Police Station where he spent five hours behind bars before being released at 9am when officers realised their error.

They blamed outdated information held on the Police National Computer.

Mr Defoe's lawyer, Nick Freeman, claimed his arrest and detention had been "unlawful" and said his client was now considering taking legal action against Essex Police.

"There seems to be a total disconnect between the courts, DVLA and police resulting in my client having to endure not only the humiliation of arrest but also being incarcerated in custody like a common criminal," he said.

CELL SHOCKED: Spurs striker Jermain Defoe, right, was held at Harlow Police Station for five hours after being wrongly arrested for driving whilst disqualified

"Despite being told Mr Defoe was not breaking the law and calling for his immediate release, the police would not agree to free him until they could clarify the position with the courts at 9am."

Mr Defoe was due to fly to Asia with the Spurs team for a pre-season tournament later that day, but Mr Freeman alleges police refused to return his car and house keys until he produced his licence documents.

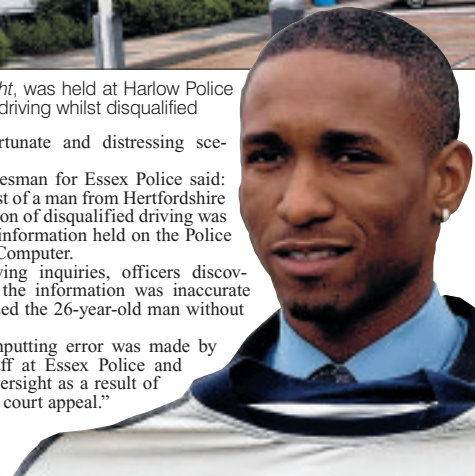

"These administrative errors are more than extremely unfortunate and should simply not occur," he added. "My client is now considering his position in relation to this unfortunate and distressing scenario."

A spokesman for Essex Police said: "The arrest of a man from Hertfordshire on suspicion of disqualified driving was based on information held on the Police National Computer."

"Following inquiries, officers discovered that the information was inaccurate and released the 26-year-old man without charge."

"The inputting error was made by police staff at Essex Police and was an oversight as a result of a pending court appeal."

Learning service gets top marks in OFSTED report

STAFF at an adult learning centre were celebrating this week after being given the thumbs up by education watchdog OFSTED.

Adult Community Learning, which has centres in Hodings Road and North-brooks, Harlow, has been rated 'outstanding' by inspectors.

The Essex County Council initiative was flagged up as being at the top of its game in a number of areas including leadership, management and overall effectiveness.

ACL principal officer Lynsi Hayward-Smith said: "This is a tremendous achievement. To gain the highest Ofsted grading is testament to the skill, professionalism and dedication of the staff involved."

"Members of the community who enrol on ACL courses can be confident that they will enjoy a rewarding and outstanding learning experience."

Grant to help vital work of carers' group

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor

sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CHARITY supporting hundreds of carers in Harlow has been awarded thousands of pounds to help expand its services.

Caring for Harlow Carers secured a two-year funding deal worth £20,000 which will go towards improving its support group service and meet its running costs.

The money has been given by Lloyds TSB through a community programme set up to plough cash into worthy causes across England and Wales.

Fiona Langridge, development officer for CHC, said: "We aim to empower carers to help each other rather than to have things done to or for them."

"This grant gives our organisation some stability so we can help even more carers in Harlow to access the support they need and take advantage of the opportunities that many of us take for granted."

CHC operates a range of services for adult and young carers as well as people being cared for, helping them to obtain the support, information and social opportunities they need.

The charity runs youth groups for young carers aged eight-18 offering training, activities and an opportunity to meet other young people with similar experiences, as well as a telephone advice line and respite care.

Funding from the Lloyds TSB Foundation will support the core costs of delivering services and allow the charity to run more support group meetings which bring together carers with guest speakers to allow those involved to share their experiences and help each other.

Jude Stevens, Lloyds TSB Foundation grant manager for Essex, said: "It is impossible to overstate the importance of the contribution that carers make to their communities. The Lloyds TSB Foundation is delighted to support the work in Harlow."

Anyone wanting to find out more about the support that Caring for Harlow Carers can offer, or who would like to contribute to their work, should contact Fiona Langridge on (01279) 308314.

The bank with food deposits

A CHARITY providing emergency food supplies to people in desperate need of help has been a huge success.

Harlow Food Bank distributes items donated by the public to the needy.

Since it opened in April it has helped to feed 116 people with a staggering 3.17 metric tonnes of tinned and dried food collected at various outlets around the town.

So far 1.6 metric tonnes of the food has been given away to local organisations who work with vulnerable people as well as residents experiencing hardship.

The charity, in conjunction with the Trussell Fund, has also distributed 55 food bank vouchers.

The charity is currently looking for people to take part in its 500 Club where 500 people donate £1 or more each month to help maintain the bank.

To find out more about the club or how you can help the food bank, ring (01279) 724515.

Dinner dance aids campaign

COMMUNITY group Harlow Milan Mandal raised £5,000 for the Royal Marsden Cancer Campaign when it held a Bollywood-themed dinner and dance evening at the Great Parndon Community Centre.

The successful fundraiser ended with the committee members presenting a cheque to their guest of honour Dr Kevin Harrington, a consultant oncologist based at the Royal Marsden Hospital.

A spokeswoman for the group said: "The committee would like to say a big thank-you to all those who supported them on the night."

Charity's annual fundraiser begins with tea and cakes

STAFF at Harlow charity Mobility have kick-started their annual tea party campaign in style at their offices in Roydon Road.

Employees, suppliers and customers enjoyed a feast of cakes to rival even the most well stocked bakery while raising money for Motability's Charitable Grants Fund.

The cakes were donated by Gregg's South East and members of staff and local businesses rallied round to donate prizes for a raffle.

Lucy Tyler, Motability's corporate accounts manager, said: "Each year the tea party campaign raises thousands of pounds for Motability."

"This money is used to help hundreds of disabled people get adaptations or financial help towards a car that can quite literally change the lives of both themselves and their family."

"So far we've raised £1,500 but we're inviting people to host parties throughout August and September so there's still time to join in the fun"

If you would like to host a tea party for Motability you can request a free tea party pack by sending an email to fundraising@motability.co.uk or calling the supporter careline on 0845 166 8786.

Train services threatened as unions call a 48-hour strike

COMMUTERS face disruption to train services today (Thursday) with the first of a series of planned strikes.

Members of the Royal Maritime and Transport Union and ASLEF at National Express East Anglia, which operates mainline services through Harlow, are taking industrial action as part of a dispute over pay and conditions.

If the expected 48-hour walkout goes ahead, the company has said it would not expect to be able to run any train services.

"We are extremely disappointed that the ASLEF and RMT unions have called this industrial action over their salary demands, despite lengthy negotiations where we have offered the unions a salary increase above the rate of inflation.

"In the present economic environment – where many companies are freezing pay at current levels – we believe the offers we have made are both realistic and appropriate.

RMT leader Bob Crow said: "Our members are not prepared to be the victims of the National Express franchise chaos and they are determined to fight for a decent pay rise and for decent working conditions."

The first of four 48-hour strikes called by the unions starts today, followed by action on August 6, 13 and 20.

Details of alternative journey options are available on the National Rail Enquiries website at www.nationalrail.co.uk.

PAH thief stole rings from cancer patient

Gym is a mental health tonic

PATIENTS receiving treatment for mental health problems now have access to fitness facilities following the opening of a new gym at the Derwent Centre in Harlow.

MP Bill Rammell joined patients, relatives and staff from the centre at Princess Alexandra Hospital for the launch on Friday.

The gym offers a full range of equipment including a rowing machine, treadmill, cycle, fit balls and ab-crunchers to enhance therapy services.

Mr Rammell said: "My constituents are part of the wider community in Britain in which one in four people need mental health support at some time in their lives.

"I am delighted to open this gym which is an unusual value-added dimension to mental health services and I hope many other mental health trusts around our country follow this example."

Andrew Geldard, acting chief executive of North Essex Partnership NHS Foundation Trust which runs the Derwent Centre, thanked Mr Rammell, Derwent Centre staff and the charities and companies which contributed to the project.

A MAN convicted of stealing jewellery from a terminally ill cancer patient at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital has been jailed.

Mark Howells (46) was sentenced to 60 days after being found guilty of the theft of two gold rings.

This week PAH chiefs, who have changed the procedure for recording and storing patients' belongings after the Star reported other incidents of jewellery thefts, warned potential thieves: "We are watching you."

Chelmsford Magistrates Court was told that Howells, of The Causeway, Bishop's Stortford, had been at the hospital on June 17 this year when he was removed by a security guard for causing "a problem".

Once outside he was said to have offered the two rings to a car park attendant.

Howells claimed he found them near a basin in the toilet area of Locke Ward and had intended to hand them in to police at Bishop's Stortford. While waiting for his medication at PAH he went to Harlow police station but left because there was a long queue.

He said had not handed them into the hospital because some of his belongings, including trousers containing £30 and a mobile phone, had gone missing while he was being treated for a stomach complaint.

The court was told Howells had a drink problem. However, a request made on behalf of his neighbours asking for him to be sent to a secure rehabilitation unit for treatment instead of prison was refused by District Judge David Cooper who said he did not have the power to do so.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

Speaking after the case, a spokesman for the PAH NHS Trust said: "We have raised staff awareness about theft in the hospital and urge them to remain vigilant at all times.

"Working with our security personnel, staff are encouraged to act quickly to ensure we apprehend thieves on the hospital site and then work closely with the police to ensure a successful prosecution.

"We hope this recent court case sends out a warning to potential thieves: we are watching you."

Landowner's anger at town centre plan

Mr Dhooper added: "The fact the council has decided to plough ahead with these plans without even consulting us – the landowners – seems like a tremendous waste of taxpayers' money to me."

Last week local businessman Mo Ghadami, who owns a number of properties in the town centre including the former Odeon cinema in West Gate, said it would be impossible for the redevelopment to go ahead without the consent of stakeholders.

A spokesman for Harlow Council refused to comment specifically on the Crown Gate site but reiterated its belief that it would find a way forward which would benefit both the project and landowners.

"The council and Stockland will be talking to all land and property owners in the town centre about how they can help achieve the overall aim of making Harlow town centre a more attractive and successful place," he said.

Pinnacles warehouse used in £7m DVD scam

THREE members of a family of refugees who raked in £7m from Britain's biggest ever DVD pirating racket run from a Harlow warehouse have been jailed for a total of 16 years.

Khalid Sheikh (53) and his two sons, Rafi (26) and Sami (28), lived in luxury on the proceeds of the operation while signing on the dole.

But the scam was smashed after police traced the high quality discs, commonly sold in pubs and markets, to a building in Barrows Road, Harlow.

The defendants, from Chingford, were found guilty of conspiracy to acquire criminal property between March 2003 and June 2006 after an 11-week trial which ended earlier this month.

Rafi Sheikh and Sami Sheikh were further convicted of conspiracy to contravene copyright and conspiracy to contravene the trademarks act.

All three were jailed for six years at Southwark Crown Court on Tuesday.

A fourth defendant – Xim Li (34), from Walthamstow – earlier admitted to having £23,000 criminal cash in his room and was jailed for two years and three months.

The court heard the DVDs, which included hit films including Ice Age 2, The Da Vinci Code and Iron Man as well as pornography, were so well made they were almost indistinguishable from the real versions but were sold for just £3 each.

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

John Hardy QC, prosecuting, said Khalid Sheikh started a company in March 2003 selling blank DVDs and plastic cases but quickly changed from a cottage sideline into a major, organised, criminal industry for which Chinese illegal immigrants were smuggled into the UK solely to work at factories across London.

It was so successful that in April 2005 Khalid paid £658,000 for a warehouse at the Pinnacles industrial estate. The family also imported a £300,000 state-of-the-art press from Hong Kong to manufacture the DVDs.

Speaking outside court, Detective Sergeant Russell Day of the Metropolitan Police's Film Piracy Unit said: "The verdicts are the result of three years' hard work and investigation into the activity of an extensive criminal network."

"Their crimes not only had an impact on the major motion picture houses but also the consumers and, in particular, the vulnerable Chinese people who became victims of the slave labour force."

"Film piracy is not a victimless crime and it is crucial that the public ask themselves if they want to play a part in the exploitation of vulnerable people by buying illegal DVDs."

Am I in the right lane if I want to turn left?

BUNGLING council workers couldn't tell their right from their left when they painted road markings on a busy Harlow roundabout.

An arrow directing motorists to turn left was painted in the right lane approach to the roundabout near Pitney Bowes at Pinnacles.

Star reader Bill Jarvis took the photograph printed above on Tuesday. But later the same day the error was rectified.

Essex County Council, which is responsible for highways, sent a team to obliterate the offending arrowhead pointing left and paint in a new one pointing right.

Cycling cops arrest town scooter thief

HARLOW'S new team of mounted police have demonstrated the advantages of pedal power after arresting a person wanted for theft.

Police community support officers were in the right place at the right time while on their bikes when they came across a man wanted for stealing a mobility scooter in Harlow.

He was arrested and charged with taking a motor vehicle without the owner's consent and appeared at Chelmsford Magistrates' Court on Friday where he was sent to a youth offenders' institute for four months and disqualified from driving for six months.

Inspector Tom Mitchell said: "Our PCSOs are certainly clocking up the miles while on bike patrols. They are able to get to areas where vehicles cannot go and this allows them to seek out those people causing a nuisance within our community and bring them to justice."

The bike patrols are being carried out as part of Operation Velo in which 300 officers are patrolling the streets of Essex on pedal cycles in a bid to increase high-visibility policing in the county.

Centre starts to distribute flu antivirals

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoona@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE area's first swine flu drug collection point has been swamped by users in its first week.

NHS West Essex launched the service on Thursday to allow designated 'flu friends' to pick up antivirals for people with the virus. In just a few days more than 600 people were supplied with medication.

The centre, which is based in St Margaret's Hospital, will be open every day from 8am-8pm but will only hand over drugs to people who have been in contact with the National Pandemic Flu Service and have received an authorisation number or those who have a voucher from their GP for Tamiflu.

On arrival at the collection point, the flu friend must be able to prove their own identity as well as that of the person they are collecting antivirals for. Anyone without either will be turned away and asked to contact the National Pandemic Flu Service.

Alison Cowie, director of public health at NHS West Essex said: "The antiviral collection point in Epping is the first to open and will be followed by others shortly."

"Clinical staff will only give antivirals to flu friends who come with an authorisation number or voucher from a GP. We cannot give antivirals without these."

"It is essential that people remember to bring proof of identity for themselves and the person they are collecting antivirals for."

She added: "It is important to remember that for the majority of people swine flu is a relatively mild illness. Many people will recover without the need for antivirals but everyone who has the virus will be offered antivirals if they need them."

Flag day for beauty spot

A HARLOW beauty spot can now fly the flag as one of the finest parks in the country.

Parndon Wood Nature Reserve has been awarded a Green Flag after impressing a panel of judges who praised its excellent facilities including well-managed green space, signage and amenities.

Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said: "I am delighted that one of the town's much loved open spaces has been recognised with a Green Flag award."

"Winning this award means Parndon Wood Nature Reserve is one of the best parks in the country. Gaining Green Flag status is the benchmark of excellence all public parks in the country want to reach."

Pictured with the flag, which was presented to the council on Thursday, are Darren Fazackerley, Carol Castlo, Colin Lincoln, Ray Matthews, Harlow Council chairwoman Edna Stevens, Danny Kings, Jenny Lushington, Andrew Tomlins, Eddie Johnson, Patrick Smith, Leanne Block and Mr Hall. ## Addict sold cocaine to undercover cops

A MAN arrested for selling drugs to undercover police officers in Staple Tye, Harlow, has been jailed for two-and-a-half years.

Jerome Minott (23), of Shawbridge, Harlow, sold crack cocaine and heroin for £25 a time on three occasions between October 21 and November 10 last year, Chelmsford Crown Court was told.

Minott, who has a two-year-old daughter, pleaded guilty to five counts of supplying a class A drug and was jailed for two-and-a-half years on each, to run concurrently.

He is already serving a six-month sentence imposed in April for possessing class A drugs.

Neil Ross, in mitigation, said that at the time of the offences Minott was a drug addict and was selling drugs to fund his habit.

He began using drugs in 2005 after the death of his uncle but shortly before he was arrested he had taken the decision to stop and seek help.

Passing sentence, the judge told Minott it was encouraging he was trying to sort out his problems.

He ordered the drugs to be confiscated and destroyed.

Crime briefs

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after burglars struck at a house in Joyners Field, Harlow, on Sunday.

Thieves broke into the house through a window in the early hours of the morning and took a bag and various documents before driving off in the victim's Vauxhall Zafira car.

Anyone with information should contact detectives at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444.

CASH, cards and jewellery were stolen when burglars targeted a house in Brockles Mead, Harlow, on Saturday night.

They are believed to have got in through an unlocked window before ransacking the house and escaping through the back door.

Tent fire couple overwhelmed by readers' support

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor

sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE homeless couple who lost all their possessions when jobs torched the tent they were living in have thanked generous Star readers who donated money and gifts to them.

A number of people offered Glenn and Margaret Johnson a helping hand after reading in the Star how they lost everything in the fire earlier this month.

The couple had been living under canvas for 10 weeks when their tent was set alight while they were visiting Harlow homeless charity Streets 2 Homes. They lost all their clothing, food, bedding and toiletries.

But they have been overwhelmed by the support they have received from our readers who have donated clothing, cash and even a safe place to bed down for the night.

Speaking as they received the gifts at our town centre office on Friday, ex-serviceman Mr Johnson said: "We are really very grateful and the response we have had has reinforced my faith in human nature. People have been extremely good."

"I spoke to somebody who read the story and they have offered us a safe farmer's field to stay in. That is for three weeks but the farmer is also a landlord and may let us move in when the

Letter to Star readers

We would like to express our thanks to the wonderful people who have offered/given support to us after the Star highlighted our plight.

We found the level of support very humbling and commend them for the wonderful human beings they are. Sometimes in life you feel totally alone due to the desperate situation you find yourself in through no fault of your own. Due to their very kind support we feel we have made friends with the wonderful community of Harlow and our heartfelt thanks to you all.

We would like to say a special thank you to Will Gottschalk, you will know why. You have shown kindness in a very special way.

young lady that is there at the moment moves out, so it's all moving along quite well."

Mrs Johnson, who suffers from anxiety and depression, said she has also been pleasantly surprised by the support she and her husband have received.

Patsy Dye, manager of Streets 2 Homes, added: "The generosity of people has been absolutely wonderful. We have had a lot of messages on our website from people offering sympathy and support and this proves that once again the Harlow public is excellent."

"The couple felt very isolated after the fire but with this support they realise they are not on their own."

Police are still investigating the blaze which happened on the morning of Monday, July 13, near Harlow Rugby Club.

Shame of student who used fake insurance to retrieve impounded car

A MAN bought a fake insurance certificate so he could get his car back from a police compound, a court heard.

Munnayum Uddin (22), of Elwood, Harlow, paid £280 for the document last October so he could retrieve his BMW after it had been impounded after an accident.

Michael Fraser, prosecuting at Chelmsford Crown Court, said Uddin produced the certificate at Harlow police station and his car was released, but subsequent inquiries revealed it was false.

Uddin was arrested and told officers he bought the certificate from a man he had arranged to meet in a restaurant.

Nicola May, representing Uddin, said in mitigation he genuinely believed he was insured at the time of the accident but afterwards realised a direct debit payment had been missed because of insufficient funds in his account and his policy had been cancelled.

"He panicked and took this rather foolish step," she said. "The real punishment is the shame he feels in coming through the court system and the shame he has caused his parents. His family has high expectations of him."

She said Uddin helped run the family's three restaurants in Harlow and he was in his third year of a university course.

Passing sentence, Judge David Turner told Uddin he had behaved "in an insane way" for a man of intelligence, adding: "You have done yourself irreparable damage. You have let yourself down, let your family down and prejudiced your future – and you have behaved dishonestly."

Uddin was ordered to complete 160 hours of community service and pay £263 costs.

Pensioner hit by motorised scooter dies two days later

A PENSIONER from Harlow has died after being struck by a mobility scooter while on holiday on the Isle of Wight.

Lillian Macey (90), of Wedhey, had safely crossed Sandown High Street but was then involved in a collision with the scooter which was being driven on the pavement by a 76-year-old man.

She was taken to hospital for treatment to leg injuries she suffered in the accident last Tuesday but died two days later.

A post mortem examination was due to take place this week.

Police investigating the incident have appealed for witnesses, especially holidaymakers who may have seen what happened but who left the island before talking to officers.

Debts of £250k 'irrecoverable'

HARLOW Council is set to write off nearly quarter of a million pounds of irrecoverable debt.

The money is made up of council tax arrears, rates and credit balances which cannot be paid back due to various reasons including bankruptcy, company liquidation or death.

Council chiefs say the debt, some of which dates back to 1998, represents less than one per cent of all debts recoverable and have said the authority has an 'excellent' record for getting back cash owed by customers.

The total of £246,360 is detailed in an agenda for tonight's meeting of the policy and resources committee at which councillors will be recommended to write off the outstanding payments.

Burglary shock for dog walker

BURGLARS who targeted a house while the owner was out walking her dog are being hunted by police.

The thieves helped themselves to a quantity of cash after getting into the property in Hare Street, Harlow, through an unlocked door at about 1pm on Thursday.

A police spokeswoman said: "We are looking for anyone who may have seen or heard anything. We would also like to remind people to always close windows and doors when leaving any room unattended for any length of time."

Anyone with information about the burglary should call police on 0300 3334444.

Lubbock dad: I'll keep digging for the truth

THE father of Stuart Lubbock has called for a second independent investigation into his son's death, eight years after the body of the young Harlow man was found in a swimming pool at the home of comedian Michael Barrymore.

Terry Lubbock has asked Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary to investigate the way the case was handled by Essex Police and also establish what happened to two potentially crucial pieces of evidence which went missing from the scene.

The latest development comes five months after a report by the Independent Police Complaints Commission criticised the initial investigation into father-of-two Stuart's death.

The IPCC said two items – a pool thermometer and a door handle – which were considered potentially vital evidence had been lost.

It also concluded the scene was not preserved properly, unauthorised people were allowed to stay at the scene and blood found on boxer shorts, towels and a robe was not investigated promptly.

However, the report said the investigation was not incompetent and there was no evidence to support Mr Lubbock's claims of a cover-up.

Speaking to reporters this week, Mr Lubbock, of Great Brays, Harlow, said: "We want to know exactly what happened, and who is responsible for losing those two items and how they mysteriously disappeared."

"There are so many questions that haven't been answered and I do believe if we keep digging we will get to the truth."

"The IPCC did a fantastic job but it didn't go far enough and since then I've heard nothing from the police, not one phone call."

Mr Lubbock told the Star: "The whole thing is shrouded in mystery. Someone needs to open the whole thing up and we need to get concrete answers.

"I think there has been a police cover-up and I won't give up until I find out what happened to Stuart. I want to go back to square one."

In June 2007 Mr Barrymore and two other people were questioned on suspicion of murder and sexual assault but, after studying the police file, the Crown Prosecution Service decided there was insufficient evidence to bring charges.

A spokesman for the HMIC, which is responsible for examining and improving police efficiency, confirmed on Monday it was looking into Mr Lubbock's request for another investigation but added no decision had yet been made.

DETERMINED: Terry Lubbock, who is calling for another investigation into the death of his son Stuart, left

Pupils invited to open new-look Co-op store

A SUPERMARKET which prides itself on its community links looked no further than the local school when it wanted someone to perform the reopening ceremony following a major refurbishment.

Pupils from Holy Cross, in Traces Road, Harlow, were invited to the Co-op food store, in Bush Fair, to cut the ribbon which had been positioned across the front of the premises.

More than £200,000 has been spent on the store which now boasts a shopper-friendly layout designed to fit in with the company's aims to improve service standards across all its stores.

Shop manager Paula Abbott said: "We provide a much-valued service for the community and I am confident our shoppers will be delighted with our new store."

"As a community retailer it is appropriate that we involve the community in our special events and we are delighted our local school played a central role."

School closure is not justified

SIR, On the subject of the decision to close Passmores School and rebuild Brays Grove School, is it not remarkable that Stephen Castle is once again the Essex County Council cabinet member responsible for schools?

Readers may recall he quit that post shortly after the Government learned of his intentions with regard to its Building Schools for the Future money. Councillor Castle was heard to say he would divert BSF finance away from priority south Essex to Harlow to facilitate this scheme.

The issue is all the more remarkable because at no point prior to the closure of Brays Grove School were any concerns ever voiced about the academic or physical viability of Passmores.

Passmores School is in exactly the right place, being central to a number of Harlow areas suffering multiple deprivation. This is where its excellent educational service is most needed.

The Brays Grove community demonstrated their ability to exercise parental choice. They did so to the degree that the major reason for Brays Grove's closure was not academic failure but lack of pupils. Now it would seem that community is to be rewarded while those where the need is greatest will be further penalised.

This is not the first time that ECC has tried to get Passmores School off the Tendring Road site. The question asked on numerous occasions is why is it so important for Passmores to vacate its present site? It has been asked of the county council and of Harlow MP Bill Rammell. The question remains but the answer has never emerged.

Harlow people, in common with many others, face an uncertain future in these troubled times. Moving Passmores School for no perceived compelling reasons and at some considerable cost does little to reassure any of those uncertainties. Quite the reverse in fact. It smacks of high-handed scheming that has little, if any, regard for those who will bear the costs and/or experience the adverse effects upon the all the other primary, junior and senior schools in Harlow.

LSC funding mishandled

SIR, Last week's news that Harlow College's funding this year has been reduced by £1.6m and that this may result in redundancies (Star, July 23) needs further analysis.

The Learning and Skills Council has reduced its Train to Gain funding from £3.6m to £2.4m but this money needs to be earned by providing training for workers and the unemployed. The Government had increased the Train to Gain funding from approximately £1m per year to £3.6m in 2008-9.

Surprisingly the Governors decided at their March meeting to use some of this money to train the college's own staff and to test the staff in literacy and numeracy, offering a £400 bonus for completing Level 2 NVQ courses.

However, if the college is actually claiming that its failure to achieve sufficient enrolments in Train to Gain is leading to a financial shortfall, then it should not be college administration or teaching staff who are made redundant but the managers who have mishandled what appears to be overgenerous funding from the Government.

Personal vendetta will harm our town

SIR, I was dismayed to read your report regarding the proposed redevelopment of the north of Harlow town centre ("Businessman's threat to town centre scheme", July 23) and the objections of Mo Ghadami to this development.

Considering the condition of this part of the town (including Mr Ghadami's very own properties that are still closed years later and starting to look tired), this is something that could potentially give a boost to the area and hopefully encourage new businesses to move in.

It appears that Mr Ghadami is involved in his own full-size game of Monopoly by using the property locations that he does indeed own to prevent any plans going ahead without his personal say-so.

He is quoted as saying, in summary, that unless it is on his own terms he will not allow any development to go ahead within his lifetime. I would suggest to him that the whole of Harlow does not support his actions as he seems to believe, and in fact his behaviour is something that itself is harming the future development and progress of the town.

I appreciate that Mr Ghadami feels he has been wronged by Harlow Council in the past and this has been dealt with by the court system and covered extensively in the local press. But I would suggest that he starts to think about the town and not just his own personal vendettas and ego.

Challenging question

SIR, In these times of doom and gloom, with our money vanishing down the drain and the Government in terminal meltdown, I am pleased to have something good to report to cheer up Star readers.

Last week I heard a few minutes of Jeremy Paxman's University Challenge on television. The question for 10 points was: "Can you name the new town, founded in 1947, whose main architect was Sir Frederick Gibberd and which is the home of....." etc. The answer, of course, was Harlow.

To my disgust neither of the teams got it, but the fact that we are now featured by Paxman suggests that we have made it. We're firmly on the map for reasons that have nothing to do with politics, deprivation, obesity or any other negative features.

One day they'll remember to mention that we are one of Britain's sculpture towns and that we are the cradle and source of optic fibres, one of the great technological developments of our age. Whatever do they teach them in these universities? Anything about Britain?

Holiday dilemma

SIR, A stroll around Old Harlow is always a pleasure. However, during school holidays there is a different feeling.

In one hour last week I experienced three different episodes which involved, or could have involved, young people.

Attempting to use the mail box outside the Post Office, five children were gathered around it practising their gymnastics, one standing on the top with the others daring him to jump. However, I was able to post my letters with some difficulty and a little persuasion.

Walking along Old Road, a fire engine buzzed me on its way to put out a grass fire in the meadow around Harlowbury Chapel. No sign of any arsonists.

Approaching the railway bridge along Old Road, I noticed a metal post in the middle of the road. It had been forced out of its position on the pavement edge and placed as a hazard to any oncoming traffic. I dare not contemplate what might have happened to any car that ran over it!

It has taken many years of discussion by our local politicians to decide what to do with our children during summer holidays but we seem to have the same dilemma every summer.

During the years we have seen our sports facilities diminish with very little encouragement and the usual excuses from local politicians as to finding sufficient funding.

Get a share of county's cash

SIR, Essex County Council has just launched round five of its highly successful Community Initiatives Fund. This means that qualifying organisations in Harlow stand to benefit to the tune of £100,000 in 2009/10.

The Community Initiative Fund is focused on supporting broadly representative organisations such as community associations and residents groups, but there is a degree of flexibility so there is no harm in applying if clubs think they have a good case.

Grants are made specifically to finance capital projects so there is a lasting benefit to the community. Harlow Scouts, the Canal Boat Project and the local Chinese Community Centre are just some of the organisations that benefited in the previous round.

The closing date for applications is November 6, with the local judging panels deciding on the successful applications in the new year. Application forms and guidance notes can be found on www.communityinitiativesfund.co.uk.

If any Star readers have family, friends or neighbours who belong to an organisation that might benefit from this fund, please direct them to the above website.

Celebrations for double diamonds

TWO couples have proved their everlasting love for each other by celebrating their diamond wedding anniversaries this week. Peter (81) and Pearl (80) Roalf, of Moorfields, Harlow, celebrate the landmark today (Thursday) while Bob (82) and Elsie (83) Hopping, of Halling Hill, Harlow, reached their milestone on Thursday.

Mr and Mrs Roalf first met when she visited his family home on the Isle of Sheppey while he was on leave from the Navy. They developed a friendship and married three years later.

The couple moved to Harlow in 1973 and have three children – Jill, Glynn and Ian. They plan to celebrate their anniversary with a family gathering tonight (Thursday), having already enjoyed a party with friends on Monday.

Looking back, Mr Roalf said: "I wouldn't mind going through all those years again. The reason it has lasted so long is her tolerance of me."

Second World War veteran Bob Hopping and his wife, former Land Girl Elsie, grew up on the same street in Edmonton, north London. They got engaged when Mr Hopping returned on leave from Italy.

After tying the knot, they both secured jobs at Edisons in Harlow and have lived in the town ever since.

They celebrated their anniversary with a river cruise on the Thames before going out for a meal with family at the Harlow Mill restaurant on Sunday.

Mr Hopping said: "I think one of the main reasons we're still happy together after all this time is because we've never argued in front of other people!"

Accused 'has no memory of brutal assault'

A MAN standing trial on a charge of attempted murder has blamed binge drinking for the vicious attack.

The lawyer representing defendant Steven Smith (22) told Chelmsford Crown Court yesterday (Wednesday) his client could not remember the incident in which he is said to have slammed a man's face into the ground while telling him: 'I'm going to kill you'.

Smith is accused of the attempted murder of Ben Rees during an alleged attack in Milwards, Harlow. He denies the offence and an alternative charge of causing grievous bodily harm with intent.

However, he has admitted assaulting Daniel Milsom and Natasha Pearson, who were assaulted after Mr Rees was attacked.

Neil Fitzgibbon, representing Smith, told Chelmsford Crown Court his client had done a terrible thing.

However, he said that because of the state Smith was in at the time of the attack on Mr Rees he had been unable to

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsexnews.co.uk form the intention necessary to prove the charge of attempted murder or cause grievous bodily harm with intent.

In his opening speech to the jury, Mr Fitzgibbon said they had to decide whether the injuries sustained by Mr Rees amounted to grievous bodily harm.

Mr Rees suffered a broken eye socket and nose in the attack, resulting in him spending three days in intensive care.

Mr Fitzgibbon said his client's defence was amnesia as a result of alcohol.

Smith has admitted assaulting a young couple which also happened in the Milwards area on November 2 last year.

Smith, formerly of Taylifers, Harlow but who now lives in Hatfield Heath, told the court he used to spend £70-£100 a night on alcohol.

"Sometimes I'd have a severe hangover. I'd wake up the next day and have a hangover for two days and stay in bed and drink water," he said.

The hearing continues.

Crime figures show a year-on-year fall

THE number of crimes committed in Harlow fell by more than eight per cent during the past three months.

Figures for April to June show there were a total of 658 offences, down 8.4 per cent compared to the same period last year. The figures were released on the Essex Police crime map which launched last year to help residents keep tabs on the level of crime in their area.

County reveals more images of new school

THESE pictures give a glimpse of what a new super-school destined for Harlow could look like.

The artists' impressions were released by county council officials this week to coincide with the submission of a planning application for the project.

The computer-generated designs offer a vision of the building which is due to replace the existing Passmores School, in Tendring Road, when it is built half-a-mile away on the former Brays Grove School site in First Avenue.

The new school will cater for 1,200 pupils, 300 more than its predecessor. The proposals also include a four-court sports hall, outdoor playing pitches, four-court multi-use games area, an all-weather pitch with floodlighting, 80 car parking spaces and 200 bicycle spaces.

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

It is intended the new school will also support the wider social regeneration of the town by offering a range of facilities to the community, including access to the sports hall, pitches and meeting space for local groups and adult education classes.

The £20m project, which has been four years in the pipeline, will also see a number of highway improvements incorporated in the plans which have been subject to lengthy public consultation since April.

Save Passmores Action Group has always opposed the proposals, arguing they will remove a successful school from the Passmores area.

But Vic Goddard, headteacher of Passmores, remains upbeat about the project and said the design meets the very ambitious aims and aspirations of Passmores.

"I am certain that this will help us improve upon our best on a daily basis," he added. "We are all looking forward to seeing the builders on site and things continuing to move forward."

It is anticipated that a decision on the planning application could be made by the early autumn. If approved, construction work will begin in January 2010 with an anticipated opening date of September 2011.

Stephen Castle, cabinet member for education at Essex County Council, said: "Passmores is already a top performing school and we have recognised that it can achieve even more with improved facilities."

"The new building will provide a superb learning environment for students and also serve the local community."

Town required to provide 15 extra traveller pitches

AN extra 15 gypsy and traveller pitches will have to be provided in Harlow by 2011.

The figure has been set by the Government which has told district councils they may have to provide more in the future.

It will bring the number of pitches in Harlow to 49. The figure was agreed as part of the Regional Spatial Strategy which sets out how many pitches and plots are needed in the East of England.

A Harlow Council spokesman said: "This policy was anticipated and affects Harlow no more than most other authorities."

"Every council in the eastern region will have to provide for a minimum of 15 additional individual pitches, with some areas having to find substantially more."

"A timetable for identifying sites is yet to be established and this will be subject to consultation through the Local Development Framework process."

Sounds like a good idea

WATER LANE PRIMARY: Music was on the curriculum when the school was visited by the Traveling Tuba Company. During the day pupils from each class took part in workshops which gave them the chance to play musical instruments and learn more about them. It culminated in a performance by the children to parents at the school's summer barbecue. A school spokeswoman said: "The day was lovely and the musicians were great. I think it was a fantastic thing for the children to do as it's not something they would normally have the chance to get involved in."

SPINNEY JUNIOR: Dedicated teacher Anne Todd was given a rousing send-off when she retired from the school after 23 years of loyal service.

Ms Todd was presented with flowers, gifts and cards from staff and children during a special assembly at the end of term.

A school spokeswoman said: "Anne has been a very special friend and colleague and an inspiration to both staff and pupils."

"We would like to wish her a very long and happy retirement."

Hop on board a Pick-Me-Up

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WE'VE all been there, waiting at the side of the road in the freezing cold and pouring rain praying for a bus to come around the corner.

But back in the 1970s Harlow residents did not have to suffer such feats of endurance. Instead they could wait in the comfort and warmth of their own home and simply call for a bus to come to their house and pick them up.

The Dial-a-Ride service, or Pick-Me-Up as it was known in the town, was launched in 1974. Small buses carrying up to 16 passengers would arrive at the customer's door in response to a simple telephone call.

The request was processed by the local control centre which made sure the address was within the three-mile operating area of the scheme before radioing drivers out on the road with details of their next pick up.

Regular correspondent Ron Bill was the council officer behind the scheme's introduction in the town.

TICKET TO RIDE: The 'pick-me-up' bus service that operated in Harlow for a couple of years during the 1970s (s) "In 1971 I saw a short film about a Dial-a-Ride scheme in America or Canada," he said.

"This seemed ideal for the neighbourhood pattern of the New Town so I produced a short paper on its possible application to Harlow and the council decided to explore the idea.

"I became lead officer for the project and we soon had a team representing all interested parties. Three years and a great deal of planning later, the scheme commenced in August 1974." Fares cost 10p per adult, 8p per child and 5p for pensioners. It was a huge hit with people in the town which was only the fifth place in Britain to have introduced the service at that time.

The system ran experimentally for two years under the joint sponsorship of the Government, Harlow Council, Harlow Development Corporation and Essex County Council before it was stopped, presumably due to funding issues.

Do you have memories of using the Dial-a-Ride service? Let us know by writing to 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or emailing sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Happy memories for a Cub Scout

ANOTHER Cub Scout pictured in the former Guardian and Gazette in 1982 during a tea-making exercise has been in touch with Nostalgia.

Richard Hanrahan is the youngster, circled, at the back of the photograph standing bolt upright with a broad grin on his face.

He contacted us after seeing the picture on this page and reading fellow Cub Scout Steven Tisseyre's memories about the event during which the boys made tea for former Harlow chairman Bill Gibson as part of an exercise teaching them how to use household equipment safely.

"When this article was originally printed a few weeks ago I had a call out the blue from my mum who had, thankfully, instantly recognised me and quickly told everyone," writes Mr Hanrahan.

"It was a brilliant time and I loved being in the 16th Harlow Cubs. Happy memories from a different time.

"Like Steven I was 10 at the time and now 37, so it makes me feel very old indeed.

"We also won a road safety competition at the town hall around this time too and I think I still have the Star newspaper cutting somewhere.

"Thanks for printing the photo and follow up. They really made me smile."

One small step ...one giant leap

ONE of the most important moments in the history of mankind happened 40 years ago this month.

On July 16, 1969 the Apollo 11 space rocket blasted off from Earth to go where no man had gone before – the surface of the moon. Five days later two of the three astronauts aboard – Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin – became the first men to walk on the lunar surface.

Millions of people around the world watched Armstrong climb down the ladder from the lunar module, called Eagle, and take those first few first steps.

The words he spoke as he placed his foot on the surface – "This is one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind" – are as famous as the mission itself.

Almost one million people even travelled to the state of Florida to watch the Apollo mission take off. While Armstrong and Aldrin were on the surface, the third member of the crew – Michael Collins – remained in the command module which circled the moon.

The crew returned to Earth safely on July 24.

sound check

Toxins/Von Jergo/The Mosquito Effect The Square, Harlow

Navigating the bleakly beautiful concrete maze of Harlow's heart on an evening when the desolate greys of town and sky muddy into one can all too easily give men heavy hearts. So it was a profoundly energising experience to come in out of the rain to the strangely comforting roar of The Mosquito Effect's thunderous prog-rock.

Jousting with the ghosts of so many greats, their influences were clear but their execution was fierce and true; an impressively tight, breathless sound that flirted with proto-metal, doffed its cap to the blues and worshipped the power chord.

But just as the audience revelled in the dreamy, post-coital glow of a pitch-perfect opening set, storm clouds were all the while gathering to herald the arrival of Von Jergo, safely the evening's only vampire-psych-garage act.

Writhing around the stage like a possessed murder-bird sizing up its prey, wild-eyed frontman Adam Sumner howled, spat and sneered through a set of unimaginably heavy Krautrock-esque numbers like the malnourished, bastard lovechild of an unholy union between Guy McKnight, Jonny Rotten and Mark E Smith.

Any band daring to follow the graveyard adrenochrome rush of Sumner and co would be forgiven for approaching their set with a degree of trepidation, but then Toxins aren't just any band.

Like a tightly-coiled spring begging to be sprung, frontman and six-string assassin Ky Wilkinson literally bounced onto the stage in a whirlwind of scuzzy licks and buzzsaw riffs, his fingers tearing up the fretboard as he effortlessly unleashed one hyper-speed neo-grunge assault after another.

With real anger in their sound, rooted in contempt for poli-tricks and frustration at mankind's self-destruction, their message was also one of hope, salvation and breathless enthusiasm – a call-to-arms for the disillusioned and desolate.

Panto hopefuls have a ball

SCORES of budding young actresses flocked to The Playhouse on Saturday morning to show why they should be chosen to play the belle of the ball in the theatre's Christmas panto production of Cinderella.

The youngsters were asked to perform a short song of their own choosing and read extracts from the panto script in front of a panel of judges made up of the production team and Playhouse general manager Scott Ramsay.

The top-performing candidates will be called back for a second round of auditions taking place on Saturday, where one lucky hopeful will be handed a paid Equity contract for her role in the show, which will begin a month-long run at the theatre on December 11.

Mr Ramsey said: "I'm thrilled the central part in this year's pantomime is going to be taken by a talented local performer. It's a super opportunity for someone out there."

Putting the fun in theatre fundraiser

By CHRIS MOSS

mossc@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

THE battle to save Old Harlow's Victoria Hall Theatre from closure takes a light-hearted turn over the next two nights with a rip-roaring comedy fundraiser.

Starting tonight (Thursday), the Bury Road venue hosts two evenings of improvised comedy inspired by the classic TV show Whose Line Is It Anyway? to raise cash to buy the lease for the historic building from Essex County Council.

The show, called The Random Word, is the brainchild of regular Playhouse panto performer Danny Gleeson, who will co-compere the evening with Harlow Theatre Company regular Jim Thompson. It will pitch stalwarts of the Harlow performing arts scene against one another as they try to turn suggestions from the audience into laughs.

Jim said: "Danny first came up with the idea of putting on an improvised comedy night a few years ago and pitched himself up at The Playhouse during a performance of Oliver."

"Those who attended the show might recall Danny out on the concourse asking members of the audience to give him random words. Well, three years on those words are still in a box ready to be used in the show!"

The event will be the latest in a string of fundraisers organised by The Friends of Johnny Wong, a charity set up in memory of the talented amateur actor and director tragically killed in a car crash in 2007. It has raised more than £60,000 for the cause so far.

Danny added: "If this is the success I'm hoping it will be, we could make this sort of event a more regular thing."

"We can even host workshops if anyone who's interested would like to be in future shows but is not experienced in improvisation."

The show starts at 8pm this evening (Thursday) for a two night-run at Victoria Hall Theatre, Bury Road, Old Harlow. Tickets cost £7.50 and are available from (07875) 893030 or (07870) 663480.

what's on

MUSIC: A summer season of hot jazz at St John's Arts & Recreation Centre draws to a close tonight (Thursday) with an all-star stomping session in the spirit of the New Orleans Mardi Gras. Featuring local jazz legend John Petters, Australian trombonist Max Collie, 'Gentleman' Jim McIntosh, Chez Chesterman, Brian White and Keith Donald, the show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £10

ART: Resident artists at The Gallery at Parndon Mill open up their studios to the public this weekend to give an insight into their work and techniques. Visitors will also be able to view and purchase everything from paintings to metal-works, learn about the art of guitar-making and even have their photos taken by professional portrait photographers. The Gallery is open from 10am-5pm on both Saturday and Sunday and admission is free.

ART: A retrospective exhibition of work by acclaimed sculptor Robert Koenig goes on show at The Gibberd Gallery in the Civic Centre on Saturday. Featuring carved wood relief panels and figures as well as drawings and other studies, Culture

Of Wood: Robert Koenig Retrospective runs until September 26. Admission is free.

MUSICAL: The Playhouse hosts an all-singing, all-dancing musical extravaganza next Friday (August 7) as youngsters taking part in the theatre's summer stage workshop get the chance to perform hits from West End and Broadway musicals. Musical Mania runs for three days, with evening performances starting at 7.30pm, Friday to Sunday, and weekend matinees at 2.30pm. Tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

new this week

THE TAKING OF PELHAM 1 2 3
certificate 15 1h45m

DIRECTOR Tony Scott's action-packed thriller plays out a deadly game of cat and mouse on the subway system beneath New York City.

The Taking Of Pelham 1 2 3 begins at a canter and barely pauses for breath between the slow-motion crashes and John Travolta's voracious scenery chewing.

Scott has forged a long and illustrious career out of male posturing and testosterone-fuelled mayhem and the old dog is in no mood to learn new tricks for this remake of the 1974 thriller starring Walter Matthau and Robert Shaw, falling back on the slam-bang, slow-motion set-pieces that have become his trademark.

A subterranean gun fight, runaway train and spectacular car crash at the film's midway point lay the foundations for the showdown on Manhattan Bridge.

The film opens in the busy transit control centre where veteran dispatcher Walter Garber (Denzel Washington) monitors the progress of trains with a steely eye.

A long, uneventful day turns into a nightmare when criminal mastermind Ryder (Travolta) and his associates Phil (Luis Guzman) and Bashkim (Victor Gojcaj) hold a carriage full of terrified commuters hostage on the subway system and demand a 10m-dollar ransom for their safe release.

The mayor (James Gandolfini), his deputy and their advisers have just one hour to find the money. And for every minute past the deadline, one of the passengers will die.

Garber reluctantly accepts the role of hostage negotiator, conversing with Ryder via the train's two-way radio system. Over time, the two men strike up a peculiar friendship, while lead police investigator Camonetti (John Turturro) tries to delay paying the ransom.

As zero hour approaches, Ryder prepares to make good on his threat and Garber shifts uncomfortably in the hot seat.

Washington essays yet another likeable working man, albeit one accused of taking bribes from a Japanese train manufacturer, keeping everything low-key. His transformation into gun-toting action man strains credibility, not that the rest of Scott's film has much to begin with.

Washington's non-performance is in stark contrast to Travolta, overacting wildly as the ex-con who takes a real shine to strait-laced Garber.

Piggies in the middle of the war on crime

new this week

G-FORCE (3D)
certificate PG 1h28m

DON the snazzy, plastic spectacles for producer Jerry Bruckheimer's first 3D film which proves that if you want a job done properly, hire a team of guinea pigs.

G-Force is a light-hearted romp laden with gizmos including jet-propelled rodent balls that allow the cuddly characters to swerve through traffic in the film's centrepiece action sequence.

The turbo-charged screenplay panders to the short attention-span of children by packing as many thrills and spills and poop gags into 88 minutes as is possible.

In the battle against terrorism, governments are thinking outside of the box. Thus G-Force is born: a covert task force of four-legged operatives with special skills assembled by geek Ben and his assistant Marcie, who collectively make up the most potent crime-fighting force in America's proud history. But when FBI special agent Kip Killian shuts down the department after a disastrous reconnaissance mission at the mansion of shady billionaire Leonard Saber, the animals escape the clutches of Killian's goons and end up in a pet store run by Rosalita and her assistant Terrell.

Thankfully, the resourceful rodents escape their cage and they head back to headquarters for a final assault on Saber Industries.

G-Force is fast-paced and inoffensive, throwing a giant robot into the mix for a pyrotechnic-laden finale that tests the critters' ingenuity and courage to the limit.

Kids will whoop at each explosion and pratfall, while parents steel themselves for the inevitable pleas from their excitable offspring about buying a real guinea pig.

GLAMOROUS

110 YEARS OF GREAT FURNITURE 1899-2009

We all need a little glamour in our lives from time to time and one of this summer's key looks is just that – go anywhere glamour.

At Fishpools we know that modern glamour and luxury is not about money it's about confidence and the key to success is choosing one statement piece or accessory to give a room a real 'wow' factor.

Take the sumptuous Regent sofa in regal purple and gold with matching scatter cushions which will command attention as soon as you enter the room. Or the unique Cinema chaise – bold and inviting and a definite talking point.

Glamour works well in the bedroom too. The decadent French-style Alexandria bed is sure to make the boudoir your favourite room in your home.

Don't worry if this all seems a little overwhelming. This look is great for those of you who love grand furniture but can still work on a very simple level too.

The Rochefort console table is a perfect example of simple, understated glamour which doesn't scream for attention but which will still draw admiring glances.

Add in a little creative thinking, don't make everything uniform, and you'll end up with a truly amazing space. And if you're looking for some inspiration or help visit our store and speak to one of our advisors who will be happy to help. Alternatively browse through our collections at www.fishpools.co.uk.

End of the road
for your vehicle?Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoringBERR

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor SalvageWe offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Essex County Council

(KINGSODON LANE, HARLOW)

(TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2009

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

EFFECT OF THE ORDER: To temporarily close that length of Kingsdon Lane in the District of Harlow from a point outside of No.18 Kingsdon Lane to its junction with Fullers Mead.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 10 August 2009 for approximately 2 weeks between the hours of 9.00am to 3.00pm or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst works for the renewal of water mains are undertaken on behalf of Three Valleys Water.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 10 August 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(HASTINGWOOD ROAD, NORTH WEALD) (TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2009

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

EFFECT OF THE ORDER: To temporarily close that length of Hastingwood Road, in the Parish of North Weald in the District of Epping Forest from its junction with Mill Street to its junction with Tilegate Road.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 10 August 2009 for 3 days between the hours of 7.00am to 5.00pm or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst reconstruction works are undertaken on the edge of the carriageway.

The alternative route will be via Mill Street - Foster Street - Green Lane - Fagotters Lane - Tilegate Road and vice versa.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 10 August 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(HARLOW ROAD, MATCHING & SHEERING) (TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2009

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

EFFECT OF THE ORDER: To temporarily close that length of Harlow Road, in the Parishes of Matching & Sheering in the District of Epping Forest from its northern junction with Collin's Cross Road proceeding north to its northern junction with High Lane.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 10 August 2009 for 3 days between the hours of 9.30am to 3.30pm or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst works to renew the aerial cable are undertaken by BT.

The alternative route will be via Church Lane - B183 The Street - Matching Road - Downhall Road - Matching Tye Road - Harlow Road and vice versa.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 10 August 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

JUST IN: Sawbridgeworth skipper Danny Wilson gets a stay of execution before his dismissal for 41 in the Herts County Cup quarter-final defeat against Harpenden at Town Fields on Sunday (KY99QL2Y-09).

Sawbo suffer last 8 defeat

HOPES that Sawbridgeworth had of reaching their fourth Herts County Cup final in seven seasons were dashed as they lost at home to Harpenden in the last eight.

A key performance from Harpenden and Hertfordshire County all-rounder Nick Lamb (4-13 and 25 not out) was the decisive factor in Sunday's tie.

Sawbridgeworth's batting once again let them down.

The hosts batted first and got off to a bad start.

They slipped to 12-2 as seamer Ben Mahoney trapped Steve Ashman lbw before spinner Ben Frazer bowled William Jones for 2.

Sawbo skipper Danny Wilson received support from Paul Reed as the pair added 40 before the latter was trapped lbw by Lamb for 10.

Wilson went on to make 41 but both he and Matt Birch (3) fell with the score on 71.

Michael Burrell played well to make 37 but no other batsman made a significant contribution as Sawbridgeworth were bowled out for 135 in 42 overs.

Lamb's pace accounted for three of the last five wickets.

Sawbo's tally was boosted by 30 extras.

In reply, Frazer struck two fours in Ryan Cunningham's first over before Brad Moses was bowled first ball.

Frazer was then adjudged lbw to Cunningham for 19 before the dangerous Burrell bowled Adam Winchester for 8 and trapped David Keenleyside for 0 to leave the visitors on 49-4.

Chris Bennett-Baggs went on to make 35 before he was caught off Matt Birch's first ball and when Wayne Larsen trapped Gregg Cooper lbw for 3, Harpenden were 83-6.

The game was in the balance but Harpenden had time on their side and Lamb and Will Bates (32 not out) guided the visitors home with 10.5 overs to spare.

Skipper Wilson said: "When they were 83-6 I thought we were going to win it but if we had got another 30 runs it could have been different."

"Michael Burrell bowled brilliantly and Ryan Cunningham did not get the reward he deserved. We fielded well but it was a terrible batting performance. We have been consistently bad [with the bat] this year."

He added: "There were a couple of [jumping] decisions that I did not agree with but there were a couple of loose shots and we should have done better."

Poor batting costly for Wilson's men

JAMES Runciman was the only Sawbridgeworth batsman to emerge with credit when Danny Wilson's side slipped to a home defeat against North Mymms.

Facing Mymms' score of 180 in Saturday's clash at Town Fields, Sawbo collapsed to 119 all out with opener Runciman left stranded on 51 not out.

The hosts' run chase started reasonably as they reached 25 before Rob Sanders was bowled for 5 by Andrew Hicks.

Twenty-eight more runs were added without loss before the game turned decisively the visitors' way as Sawbo lost two wickets in two balls.

Steve Ashman was trapped lbw by James

Oram for 11 before key player Wilson was bowled for 0.

Sawbo's fate was virtually sealed when Matt Birch was run out for 2 by a brilliant throw and Will Jones was bowled by influential spinner Mark Saxby for 0 to leave the home side on 82-6.

Saxby took two more wickets including that of Burrell who made a breezy 20 before the visitors were bowled out with Runciman unbeaten. Earlier, a superb knock from Herts county captain Andy Lewis had been the highlight of the pre-lunch session.

He saw two wickets fall at the other end and made 67 with fluent strokeplay before he was trapped lbw by Runciman, leaving Mymms on 114-3.

Saxby continued his good work after lunch and went on to make 52.

The last seven wickets fell for 33 runs.

Ryan Cunningham (4-53) and Burrell (3-56) shone with the ball for Sawbo.

Injury blow for schools international Billy

ENGLAND Schools international Billy Falconer has been ruled out of the UK Championships on August 9 with an ankle injury.

The youngster sustained the injury in a high jump competition on Sunday.

On Saturday he leapt 1.91m in the senior men's category at a competition at Birmingham.

Falconer hopes to return in time for the UK Schools Championships at Cardiff in September.

Several athletes performed well in helping their club Woodford come fourth in the Southern Premier Division.

Falconer was second in the A string high jump with 1.90m.

Kathrine Foy (18) was 2nd in the B string 400m (60:00), 7th in the 1,500m (5 mins 18secs), 4th in the A string 3,000m (11:56) and was part of the 4x400m relay team that came 4th.

North Weald's Jess Docking (18), still recovering from a virus, came 4th in the B 3,000m in 12:11 and won the B 1,500m steeplechase (6:16.15).

Burnt Mill School student Sophie Fuhr (15) ran a personal best (PB) of 70.0s when he came 5th in the A 400m hurdles. She was 6th in the B 1,500m (5:20) and was part of the 4x400m relay team that came 4th.

Daniel Yaxley (16) was 4th in the B 3,000m (9:48) and 4th in the A 2,000m with a PB of 6:57.

New Hawks boss in race against time for players

I have had a lot of experience at Ryman League division one and I can relate to players."

Bothwell has every faith in Anstead. "He has been working so well. Everything will be down to him, from the staff he will be bringing along to the players he will be bringing in," she said.

THEY'RE OFF: Runners start the Harlow 10 race from outside the Mark Hall Sportcentre in Old Harlow on Sunday (SVRLJLYC-04)

20 anniversary milestone for Harlow 10 race

Running

KEEN runners were blessed with ideal conditions when Harlow Running Club held its 20th anniversary 10-mile race.

Cool temperatures marked Sunday's event which drew runners from Essex, Hertfordshire, Kent, North London and as far as Cambridgeshire and Portsmouth on the South Coast.

More than 460 runners completed the course and competitors were given commemorative T-shirts marking the 20th anniversary.

Colin Moody, Harlow Running Club's chairman and a marshal at the event, said: "It went very well and it's good to have held this event for so long. Next year it will be part of the Essex County Championships. We have done this before.

"Conditions have rarely been as cold for the race and not like last year when several runners collapsed because of the heat."

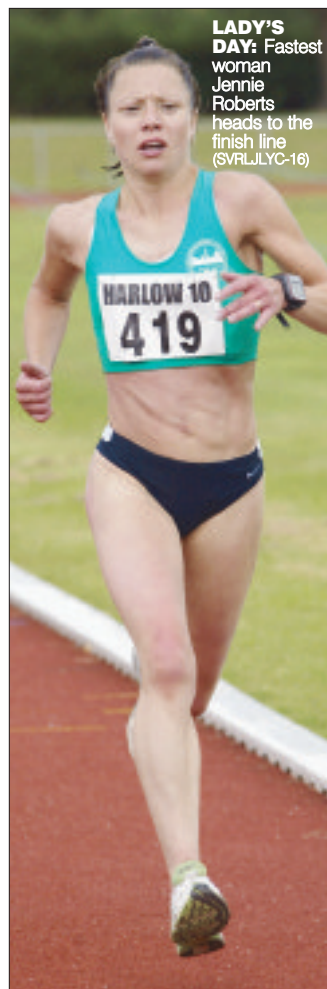

The first race was held in 1990 and started and finished at the Sportcentre in Hammarskjold Road. That route took in Summers and Latton Common.

This year runners followed a similar route to the previous year.

The race started and finished back at the track at Mark Hall Sportcentre.

an hour than did so when it first started. Harlow Common [the 6-8 mile mark] was a tough part of the race as the wind was gusty."

The race was won by John Clarke (Newham and Essex Beagles) in 54 mins 25sec. He was followed home by Paul Molyneux (Springfield Striders; 55:25) and Allen Smalls (Colchester Harriers; 58:07).

Jennie Roberts (Colchester Harriers) was the first woman finisher and 9th overall in 61:02 while the first Harlow finisher was Jared Bethell (11th, 61:30).

He was followed home by club colleagues Justin Revell in a personal best (PB) time of 62:13 and Alan Broughton (64:24).

Andy Terrell also clocked a PB of 67:58.

A six-man Territorial Army team from the Old Harlow unit marched round the course wearing full army packs (weighing 10kg) in support of the Help for Heroes charity.

Around 50 marshals were provided by Harlow Running Club.

Other Harlow RC results:- Roy Steven 66:22; Jamie Jephcott 67:17; Lee Daniel 67:50; Jason Haigh 67:58; Adrian Fell 73:17; Grahame Thomas 74:45; Ruth Barnes 96:48.

● HARLOW Running Club wheelchair athlete Richard Charriso won the 100m and 400m races in the non-elite section of the London Grand Prix at Crystal Palace at the weekend.

Gold for Hunt on GB debut

Chelmsford Athletic Club member Hunt, a former Mark Hall School student, joined Ross McDonald (Birchfield), Nathan Wake (Herts Phoenix), Louis Persent (Colchester) and Chris Clarke (Marshall Milton Keynes) in the squad.

First leg runner Hunt beamed: "It's the first time I've worn the vest – it's so good to get out here."

Hunt handed over in joint first with a time split time of 49.00s as Great Britain qualified for the final from Saturday's heat.

And the Harlow youngster admitted he was inspired by his relay team-mates in Sunday's final.

"Seeing what Louis and Chris did was amazing, just to be here seeing them through the rounds, listening to the way they talk – it makes you want to raise your game.

"I was really pleased with my run on that long stagger [in the heat]. I was close to the guy outside me and finished strongly."

Although GB manager Tony Hadley had to drop Hunt from the five-man squad for the final, the teenager still picked up a gold as part of the winning squad.

Great Britain just pipped close rivals Poland to take the gold medal in the final.

Trio of wins for Polly

POLLY Woods secured three first places and a second for Harlow Athletic Club in a Southern Women's League match at Chelmsford on Sunday.

The small Harlow side placed a very respectful fourth in the overall standings after some excellent individual performances and personal bests (PBs).

The highlight for Polly was in the A string long jump where she clocked a personal best leap of 4.99m in the senior women's competition.

She also won the A triple jump with a leap of 10.55m and the B 200m (29.1s). She was second in the A high jump (1.35m).

Alex Hill was in superb form, gaining two first places and a second in her chosen events. She stormed to victory in the 100m (13.6s, PB).

Lorraine Down, making her club debut, won a great 800m race in 2mins 51.2s (PB). It was her first competitive outing in more than a decade.

Sian Donovan threw a remarkable 19.91m (PB) for second in her discus event.

Judith Moss was a creditable second in her 800m race.

In the U-15s, Isobel Moss gained a good victory in the 1,500m in 5:43.3s.

Eloise Lott (11) improved upon her best, coming third in the long jump with 3.51m (PB).

Eleanor Moss (11) maintained her consistency with a confident third place with a 14.41m throw in the javelin.

Harlow are 6th in the seven-team division two north.

Soldier on for a Tale of fortune

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday July 31).

SOLDIERS TALE has been a good friend of the bookmakers over the last few weeks with a string of short priced defeats.

This staying greyhound retains tons of ability but has a few problems when it comes to overtaking is not one to have complete faith in.

However, the make up of this Friday's contest looks ideal for the selection and can strike back for the punters.

Running from trap one is always a bonus as he can avoid trouble by sticking to the inside before pouncing late.

During his long career at Harlow COPPER PENNY has probably made more enemies than friends due to his frustrating style of running but there is no doubting his pace when everything clicks into place.

He has recently slipped to a winnable grade and can land an overdue success.

Selections (Friday July 31):

7.30pm Ishi A Diva; 7.45pm Jigsaw; 8pm Mandley Girl; 8.15pm Questhouse Alexi; 8.30pm Cool Linda; 8.45pm Soldiers Tale; 9pm Waterdell Dandy; 9.15pm Dainty Benny; 9.30pm Ruff By Name; 9.45pm Pinewood Ted; 10pm Lady Shambally; 10.15pm Copper Penny.

Anglers: Watch the bright White

Angling

THE sunny conditions made catching fish difficult for the 20 members of Stort Valley Angling Society who competed on the White House stretch of the River Great Ouse near Littleport in Cambridgeshire.

Andy Turnbull, making a welcome return to the Harlow club and using ledger fished worm, managed to entice a few bream for a winning weight of 17lbs 7ozs.

Second place went to club captain Alan Heywood, who used red maggot as hook bait on the tip. He netted 14lbs 3ozs.

Steve Turnbull took third place with just under 9lbs.

Turnbull continued his winning ways by lifting the Nocturnal Trophy, the club's annual night match, fished at a below par Willows Lakes in St Albans.

His winning weight of only 14lbs 8ozs was very poor for this venue, although conditions appeared to be perfect.

Bill Beehan claimed second spot with a meagre 6lbs 12ozs.

League victory for squash club

Squash

HARLOW Squash Club's second team defeated Berkhamsted 2-1 in their latest Herts League division four match.

First string Vinh Tram triumphed 15-13, 13-15, 15-8, 13-15, 15-10 in a game that swung one way then the other.

Second string Richard Lewis had a more comfortable match, winning 15-13, 15-11, 15-12.

Third string Rob Coghlan thought he had his match won when he went into a 2-0 lead (15-11, 15-12).

But his opponent had other ideas and won the next three sets 11-15, 11-15, 10-15 to prevent a clean sweep for Harlow.

Harlow's first team were not in action.

Key win for Harlow in promotion chase

A CRUCIAL victory was achieved by Harlow when they beat fellow promotion chasers Walthamstow at home.

The win enabled third-placed Harlow to stretch the gap on fourth-placed Walthamstow to 18 points.

All-rounder Maruf Chowdhury played a key role for the hosts, taking 3-22 and scoring 50 runs.

Harlow skipper James Butler said: "He bowled genuinely quickly – you don't see many quick bumpers at Marigolds, let alone with a ball that is 26 overs old.

Walthamstow 117, Harlow 121-8

Harlow won by two wickets

Shepherd Neame Essex League, div two

"He is still a bit rough around the edges but he will do for us right now. He batted like a man possessed."

Walthamstow batted first and started slowly but the first wicket did not come until the score had reached 40.

A Chowdhury delivery saw Shazad Shaikh play the ball on to his stumps. Star player Asif Bala looked in good nick before he was caught brilliantly by Abhishek Jhunjunwala at slip, for the first of his three catches.

Harlow then took control. Jhunjunwala bowled his spinners tightly and seamer Zafir Nazir (3-28) also bowled arguably his best this season.

However, it was the second spell of paceman Chowdhury that changed the game in double quick time.

He bowled Kiwi star Nathan McNally and then trapped the promising Michael Harris lbw with an excellent delivery.

A great piece of fielding at short leg by Chowdhury to catch Mike Guest, ended the innings with Walthamstow having mustered only 117.

The Harlow innings got off to a flier. Chowdhury was particularly harsh on Michael Harris.

Harris had bowled a maiden first over at Rehman Ahmed, but then went for 38 from his next two overs – all from the flashing blade of Chowdhury.

At 60-0, Harlow were coasting but Ahmed went for 15 and was followed by Chowdhury who was dismissed by visitors' skipper Greg Harris to leave the hosts on 70-2.

Greg Harris and the leg spin of McNally caused the home side problems.

Nick Butler (18) and Jhunjunwala (13) chipped in but when Luke Heskett went first ball and Nazir was dismissed for 0, nine were needed with just two wickets in hand.

However, James Butler (9 not out) hit the last runs to clinch victory.

SHAKE ON IT: Steve Green, the Harlow Cricket Club chairman greets India Test batsman Wasim Jaffer (VNZWLPQH-12)

Test ace's wicket a Cooney coup!

DAVE Cooney will remember this year's game between Harlow and the President's game for the rest of his life.

Harlow's fourth team all-rounder dismissed 31-year-old India Test star Wasim Jaffer for 31 when he got him out lbw.

Jaffer batted at number three for the President's XI on Sunday and looked a class act before he was dismissed by Cooney's fourth ball.

A crowd of 50 had come to see him bat.

James Butler, Harlow's first team skipper, said: "As you would expect Wasim looked in a different class.

"There isn't anything that Dave didn't get Wasim to sign – the ball, his bat, his shirt, the scorecard!"

He added: "Wasim was an absolute gentleman all day. He signed autographs and played the game with a smile – a thoroughly nice guy and we hope to see him back at Marigolds next year, if only so he can exact some revenge."

The star-studded President's XI featured some familiar faces in the shape of Saffron Walden player Joe Holland – the brother of former Republic of Ireland international footballer Matt Holland – and the returning Mark Green.

The President's XI batted first and posted 300 with Mark Green grabbing a quick 50 and Steve Elkins also notching a half century. Holland scored 40.

Harlow were then bowled for 225.

Ryan Jessey smashed a great 50 to follow up 12 overs of tidy off spin.

Harlow chairman Steve Green (playing for the President's XI) took an excellent one-handed catch at gully, to dismiss his son Darren.

Thirteen landmark for unstoppable Town

IT was certainly not a case of lucky 13 for Harlow Town as Vic Goddard's men eased to another win in division two of the Herts & Essex League with a 96-run victory over Birchanger on Saturday.

The Ash Tree Field side have dominated the division this term and fully deserved their 13th victory from 13 games.

Pat Yates (60) also hit a half century after Town were asked to bat on a wicket still wet from

Harlow Tn 214-5, Birchanger 118

Herts & Essex Cricket League, division two the previous day's rain.

Town eventually set Birchanger a total of 215 to win which was a fine effort given the difficult batting conditions.

Ramaya Upadhyay (35) was the other main run scorer for the Harlow side as he accelerated the total over the 200 mark.

With a number of player absentees the Town bowling attack had a different look to it but thanks to some patience and fine catches Birchanger never looked likely to overhaul the total needed.

James Hayter bowled to the conditions and picked up the two important wickets of Savannu (27) and Hussain (17).

The spin bowling of Upadhyay (3-14) and Simon Rowell (3-22) proved difficult to play against on the deteriorating pitch as wickets fell regularly.

Paul Parker batted well for the hosts to reach 47 and push the Birchanger score beyond 100 but he was the final man out with just 118 on the scoreboard.

In division three, Potter Street (155-9) lost to Woodford Wells IV (184) by 29 runs.

Harlow Town II were beaten in their top-of-the-table clash against Stansted in division four.

Batting first, Stansted put on 211 with Oli Souter taking four wickets for Town.

In reply, Town fell just 18 runs short despite Karl Seecharan hitting 46.

Harlow Town III returned to winning ways in division seven against Hockerill III with an easy 128-run win. John Simpson hit 59 and Tom Wilcox was unbeaten on 44.

New Hawks boss faces race against time to recruit players

ANTHONY Anstead faces a race against time to get a Harlow Town FC squad together before their Ryman League division one north campaign begins against Great Wakering Rovers in 16 days' time.

The 30-year-old - a goalkeeper for Boreham Wood and Ware in previous years - was appointed as Hawks boss by the club's new chief executive and chairman Carol Bothwell on Monday.

Four people were interviewed before Bothwell opted to give Anstead his first taste of management.

Previous boss Glen Alzapiedi quit on Tuesday last week.

This was in the aftermath of the resignation of Simon Morgan as chairman, along with a whole host of backroom staff and players, plus most of the Board.

Many clubs have the bulk of their squads relatively known by this stage but it appears that Anstead has to start from scratch.

It is not known how many of the players brought to the club by Alzapiedi will remain but left-back Michael Bardle and keeper Richard Hayward have already joined Hemel Hempstead Town. They join ex-Hawks skipper Mark Taylor at the Southern League club.

Striker John Frendo was understood to be on trial at Blue Square South side Chelmsford City in a match against an Ipswich Town XI last night (Wednesday).

Anstead's first game in charge of his new side saw Harlow lose 4-2 in a hastily-arranged friendly against neighbours Bishop's Stortford on Tuesday at Barrows Farm.

Players tried out included central defender Wesley Beccles, who Anstead hopes to sign, and former Stortford midfielder Jason Mason.

Anstead said: "Wesley has a lot of work to do but he has plenty of heart. Jason is a good player and he could play at a higher level but we will have to see what we can do.

"I only had eight players on Tuesday morning but managed to get a squad together and we did not do that badly considering they [Stortford] had five or six who will start for them in the Blue Square South."

Central defender Laurie Stewart has a hamstring injury but Anstead hopes he will stay at the club.

He said: "He is only a few days away from being ready."

Anstead hopes to appoint former Cheshunt boss Glynn Mason and Leyton Orient youth coach Lewis Spencer to his coaching staff.

"I will sit down with Glynn and work out his exact role. I want Lewis to be working with all teams," said Anstead.

Harlow are due to host Coca-Cola League One club Southend United this Saturday.

Anstead is relishing this game and the challenge ahead. He said: "The result is irrelevant. It's how players perform and what we learn. I meet challenges like this head on.

"The club needs to start afresh."
